

Aboodi Shabi

International keynote speaker

Aboodi has been working in executive coaching and coach training since the mid-1990s and has several years of international coaching, training and leadership development experience. He has delivered coach-training programmes and worked with executives and teams all over the world, in sectors ranging from NGOs to financial services, pharmaceuticals and media.

He is a regular speaker on the international coaching circuit, and an invited guest tutor on mastery in coaching at several European coaching schools. He is currently on the editorial board of Coaching at Work magazine, and teaches on the Certificate in Coaching for Henley Business School. He has been on the ICF global coaching board, and was founding co-President of the UK ICF Chapter.
